How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and calmly say: "Oh! it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedid, Druggist.

K. C. Eldridge the agent for the Singer Sewing Machine has also secured the agency for several leading pianos including the following makes, McEwen, Antisell Newby and Evans, and several others, which he will sell on reasonable installments. For further particulars or inspection apply at his agency to the Ormsby House.

What on Earth

Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trumps put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal prices? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedid, Druggist

Cough! and Cough! and Cough!!

What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedid, Druggist.

A pretty young woman employed in the Government Printing Office at Washington dangled a toy mouse in the face of a sister clerk. The sister clerk fainted, and the faint was followed by spasms. The joker then became frightened, fainted and was taken seriously ill. For a time it was feared that both women would die. The mouse is so deadly an enemy of womankind that it is not safe for women to trifle with it, even in its wooden state.

If the Cleveland wing of the Democratic party keeps its promise and renews efforts to force free trade on the United States, Mr. Gladstone's admissions will prove useful to protectionists. Mr. Gladstone plainly intimates that it is duty to engage in the production of cereals and cotton on a vast scale so that England may purchase her food supplies and raw materials as cheaply as possible. In other words, he thinks that this country ought to do the rough work and let England have the pleasant and profitable monopoly of converting raw materials and finished products.

Sleigh Riding the Rage.

Sleighting has been the great sport of late in this city and those who did not own cutters when the sleighing season commenced have improvised runners placed under the bottoms of their buggies, phaetons, carriages or light wagons as the case might be, and daily and nightly—or far into the night, the bells jingle merrily on Main street. There are all kinds of teams, and nearly every conceivable class of conveyance. Yesterday two boys made their appearance in a rig, that, while it did not look gaudy, seemed to please them and delight the onlookers. They had secured the shafts and axle of an old wagon, mounted a dry goods box on it, had some one place plank runners under, and fastened a sad-eyed, flea bitten gray horse to it. Two boys were seated in the wagon and another ran beside the equine anatomical wreck striving to urge him out him of a walk, but had not succeeded when the reporter left them. There being a full moon, has added to the delightful evening driving and hundreds have taken advantage of every opportunity to sleigh ride.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE.

Jack Elliott's Residence Totally Destroyed.

About 11:30 yesterday an alarm of fire brought the firemen to Jack Elliott's house, which was found to be in flames.

The Warrens coupled with the plug in front of Kitzmeyer's store, and the Currys made their connection with the plug near T. Coffin's residence.

First water was secured by the Warrens, who were quickly followed by the Currys. Neighbors and citizens secured most of the furniture and carpets before the fire reached the lower floor. The fire started under the roof. When this work was about completed the ceilings began to fall, and several Warrens were nearly buried under the debris, and the building was rapidly emptied of men and boys. The only effort made after this was to keep the fire from spreading, as it was useless to try and save the house. The fire burned very slowly on account of the snow on the roof.

Mrs. Elliott says she left a hot fire in the sitting room stove so as to have the house warm when her husband returned from his office. The chimney probably became hot and started the fire under the roof, which was fortunate, as it gave plenty of time to remove the furniture.

The house was insured for $1,500 and Elliott estimates his loss at $5,000.

He will rebuild in the Spring.

Will Bear Copying.

Here is the manner in which an exchange relates it: A man was out hunting the other day, and while he was thus engaged, there came up a big rain and he sought shelter in a hollow log; the log became soaked in water and swelled until the opening was too small for the man to get out. There he was in a dilemma. He quickly reviewed his past life, and when he came to remember that he was not even a subscriber to his home paper, he felt so small that he crawled out again without any trouble whatever.

A Joke on Stewart.

WASHINGTON, January 10.—The Evening Star says: Senator Stewart of Nevada has a long white beard and a kindly face. Before Christmas as he walked up the avenue from the Capitol a little girl saw him and rushed after him. "Oh, Santa Claus," she said, as she caught him by the coat-tail, "Won't you bring me a doll for Christmas?" The doll was forthcoming and the "kid" and Stewart are now both happy.

It is not improbable that this joke was put up on Stewart by Sen. Jones.

A Cry for More Plugs.

Yesterday's fire proved beyond a doubt the supply of fire plugs is inadequate as the nearest were at Tremor Coffin's corner and Geo. Kitzmeyer's furniture store. There were two carts that had to remain idle for want of plugs. This matter should be attended to by the city as the volunteer firemen who so ceaselessly labor to save the town from destruction by fire note the scarcity of water in many cases.

Against the Rule.

Wife—What are you so busy at?
Young Physician—I am writing a letter to the newspaper, abusing Dr. Blank, the great scientist.

"True; but it is against the rule for physicians to advertise, and I must get myself before the public somehow."—Stockton Mail.

The mining industries near Sierra City are paralyzed by the snow. Miners are flocking into the city, fearing snow-slides, and a general feeling of insecurity has been developed since the recent disaster in which seven lives were lost.

At Petaluma Mrs. Dell Robinson and her eight children were poisoned, Saturday by drinking tea. They were seriously ill for a period.

Subscription Laws.

Dr. Tuckerman, editor of the Workman, Cleveland, has taken some pains to collect and compile the decisions of the United States Courts on this subject, and gives as the result of his investigations the following:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodical, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the postoffice to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.
4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.
5. The Courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it; otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused," and have a postal-card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS. — Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.

Go to Will Wright for a good Photo. He is still at Peterson's gallery over Thaxter's store turning out cabinets at $5 per dozen in cloudy or fair weather. n25
